Dear parishioners,

The Way to Peace

St. Paul urges the Philippians not to be anxious. He tells them, "There is no need to worry". This may seem an unreal piece of advice. There is no way to avoid all worry. Good and sincere people are naturally worried about many things. It is part of the burden they carry precisely because they are people who care, who care about loved ones, and many other things.

But Paul is not talking about normal concerns. He is talking about anxiety. Nothing is more debilitating or fruitless than anxiety. Of itself it does nothing to solve our problem. Rather, the opposite is the case. By dissipating our energy, anxiety weakens us and makes it more difficult for us to find a solution to our problems.

The root of anxiety is lack of trust – lack of trust in oneself, in others, and especially in God. Hence, the first piece of advice Paul gives the Philippians is to pray. They must learn to commit their cares to the Lord: "If there is anything you need, pray for it."

Paul is not suggesting that prayer should take the place of action. Nor is he implying that their prayer will always be answered. What then does prayer do? Prayer implies a willingness to do what we can, and then to leave things in the hands of God. To accept what happens then as his will, even though we may not understand it.

Then Paul tells his readers to think positively. People who are over-anxious tend to think very negatively. They think and imagine the worse scenario. This is disastrous. We must concentrate on the good, not on the bad.

Many people devour the newspapers everyday. It is hard to read the newspapers these days without coming away depressed; so full are they of bad news. Instead of filling our minds with all kinds of trash, Paul says, "Fill your minds with everything that is true, everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honor, everything that can be thought virtuous and worthy of praise." The power of positive thinking is well known.

However, it is not just a question of thinking nice thoughts. We must try to do these things. Thoughts alone will not suffice. We must pursue goodness in our actions. Paul says, "Keep doing the things you have learned from me."

In Jesus' parable of the vineyard a lot of ugly things happen. But evil does not have the last say. In the end good triumphs. This shows us that there is only one way to overcome evil, and that is with good. Jesus did not answer evil with more evil. He triumphed over evil by good.

If we do what we can, and put our trust in God, then Paul assures us that, "the peace of God, which is so much greater than we can understand will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus."

Peace comes, not by having an easy and tranquil life. We can have peace even in the midst of struggle and turmoil provided we are on the side of right. Then the peace of God will be with us.

Rev. Peter Anglaere
Pastor

NOTE:

THANK YOU

What a blissful day you blessed me with last Sunday!! I felt the very positive vibe that flowed from our worship together in Church to our eating and celebrating together at the Knights of Columbus; and I am deeply and heartily grateful to each one of you for your love. I thank all the members of the Planning Committee who spent so much time on this, coordinating all your efforts and hiding many things from me in order to let me enjoy even so much more your surprises (even though I rained on the original big surprise; do forgive me). I accept with a very grateful heart all your cards that conveyed such deep expressions of your love (words that do challenge me so profoundly to be more alive in God and in my efforts to serve you even more diligently and lovingly) and your gifts that conveyed your concern for my physical needs, and for which I am really grateful. You are all a treasured gift to me; and may the Lord bless and keep you all as I will remember each one of you as I raise the Chalice you gave me in the offering of the Mass. I love you all.

Ultreya, held at St. Ann School, 7:00pm. on the first Thursday of every month, is open to all Catholics. It is an opportunity to both give and receive encouragement in our efforts to follow Christ in all the facets of our lives, thus building up the Body of Christ. This includes music, group sharing, developing friendships, a witness and opportunities for spiritual direction. The gathering is planned to last about one hour and conclude with a visit to the Blessed Sacrament. Please come!

Sunday Gospel Reflections for October 2, 2011

Matthew 21:33-43

Gospel Summary - Using a parable, Jesus got the Jewish leaders to admit their error. He described a vineyard owner (God) who sent slaves (prophets) to collect his share of the harvest from the tenants (Jewish leaders). But the tenants killed the slaves. The landowner sent more slaves, but the tenants killed them, too. Finally the owner sent his son (Jesus). Of course, they killed the son. Jesus summarized his point by telling the chief priests and elders that what they had rejected (their place in the kingdom) would now be given to the Gentiles.

Reflection for Families - God has given us a great harvest in our children. The harvest may not be perfect or a bumper crop in all ways, but nevertheless, the harvest is a precious gift from God. Like the greedy tenants, there are things in our lives that would take us away from our responsibilities to our children. What are the things we give in to and how have we justified their interference? Perhaps it is our job. Of course, we need to support our families, but is our lifestyle worth a trade-off in the amount of time we spend with our children? Do our friends, hobbies, ambitions sometimes get in the way of family time? Today's gospel challenges us to appreciate the fruits of our harvest.

Bringing the Gospel into your Family - Go through your child(ren)'s photos from the time they were born (or joined your family) until the present. Share memories and notice how they have grown in so many ways. Reflect together on how they are good fruit and what their gifts are. Share with one another how these gifts help bring about the Kingdom of God while we are still here on earth. Are there any changes family members can suggest for themselves that will further enrich the harvest? How can we be better fruits for the Kingdom of God?
